Good morning,

I have a question regarding writing/contributing to a non-Bureau publication. At the time I helped co-author the article (summer 2009), I was only about four months into my work here at the FBI, and was generally unfamiliar with the appropriate process--therefore, I did not check with RMD for review, per the 2005 Prepublication Review Manual. I only checked with my Security Office for general guidance. Due in part to a miscommunication with the coauthors, Part I was published before I realized it had completed the publishing process.

No FBI information is given in the article--the subject matter was not really my Area of Responsibility, but it does pertain to general topic areas that the FBI handles. My contributions to the article consisted of research entirely conducted at my home, outside of my Bureau business hours, via information available on the Internet (much of it was self-education with Google) and my local public library. The bulk of my research consisted of news articles, press releases, and publicly-released government information. None of it was reviewed/edited by other Bureau employees, or any employees of the US Government, for that matter.

If you can provide me the appropriate email address on the U-Net side, I'd be happy to forward you the final drafts. (The article was broken-up into four sections--it is my understanding that one section will be published per week.)

Please let me know how to proceed--if there is a problem, I want to do everything possible to correct it. If there is no problem, I would appreciate an email/memo stating that fact.

I will be at my office today until 4PM. Otherwise, I can be reached via my personal cell phone: [REDACTED]. I am b6 -2 currently experiencing some difficulty accessing my U-Net email account outside of my office, so my personal cell phone is probably the best way to reach me outside the office.

Thank you very much for your assistance! I hope you had a great New Year's.

Sincerely,

Kathleen E. Hayman

I think I had your email wrong, but as it happens I sent you the links to the first installment yesterday. Here they are again.

As is more common than not, it is necessary that we call upon FBI "subject matter experts" to review the submissions of current/former FBI employees as the subject matter at issue is beyond the general expertise of my employees. It is in that regard, that I am contacting you.

Would you please review [REDACTED] resume. Please see [REDACTED] email for attached resume. Please provide us your conclusions regarding the information in question. Should you have questions, please feel free to call or email me.

Hello [REDACTED]

b6 -1,-2

[REDACTED] gave me your name as [REDACTED].

I am [REDACTED] Coordinator of the Prepublication Review Office. My office's function is to review intended publications by current/former FBI employees or contractors to determine if the employee has included information obtained during FBI employment, which should not otherwise be released. Examples would be classified information, Rule 6e, sensitive techniques, pending investigations or prosecutions, personal privacy info, FBI information not available to the general public through means such as FOIPA, the media or court records, etc.

As is more common than not, it is necessary that we call upon FBI "subject matter experts" to review the submissions of current/former FBI employees as the subject matter at issue is beyond the general expertise of my employees. It is in that regard, that I am contacting you.

Would you please review [REDACTED] resume. Please see [REDACTED] email for attached resume. Please provide us your conclusions regarding the information in question. Should you have questions, please feel free to call or email me.

General Rules-We have 30 business days to respond to the author. We would like to respond to the requester as soon as we can. Also, as the material is proprietary information, it is not to be disclosed/shared beyond those persons involved in the review process.

Thank you

This is an UNCLASSIFIED presentation and does not discuss any FBI investigations or operations, and does not discuss
